

Word Alchemy Creative Writing Spring Workshops

Explore your creative writing ability within a supportive group of fellow scribblers in The Market House, Blacklion this spring. Word Alchemy will meet each Saturday morning from 11am-1pm from 11th February until 25th March.

Using free writing techniques and prompts participants begin to express themselves in short memoir, poetry and short stories. The group goal is to encourage all participants to become more fluent in expressing themselves clearly and creatively. Sessions cost £10/€12.50 each.

In addition to the Saturday workshops we are excited that to be hosting a residential weekend at the Benwicken Eco-hostel in Ballintrillick, Sligo over the April Fools's weekend. This weekend will combine writing workshops with some guided tours of sites associated with inspiring some of W. B. Yeats most famous poems. With Poetry Ireland Day on April 27th this year, we aim to build enthusiasm for a marathon of poem-a-day writing all through April.

For more information about Word Alchemy workshops, please see the attached fliers. You can book your place for both the Saturday workshops and the Be a Fool For Poetry weekend by ringing Bee on (071) 964-3936 ((RoI) or (00353) 71 964-3936 (NI).
